

How To Help Your Child ...

Summer informational series for parents.

In this informational series, local professionals will discuss child development, age-related milestones, learning strategies, and resources that parents can use at home to help their child.

The summer series will begin on July 7th and continue through August 11th.

Presentations will be made available every week over the summer for parents to view. They will be recorded and include a link to frequently asked questions and resources.
